

Hide this layer before printing.

Keep all text and vital imagery within the blue circle.

Make sure that background images cover the red circle completely.

Failing to do so will create white areas along the borders of the CD/DVD.

The green circle that surrounds the center hole signifies a band of lighter white that is present on all blank CD/DVDs. This band will not be visible unless you are printing a disc with no background graphics, or a very light background colour or pattern.
